The Lunch and Learn Series is hosted in partnership by the UC San Diego Shiley-Marcos ADRC Research Education Component (REC), and the San Diego Alzheimer's Disease Resource Center for Minority Aging Research (AD-RCMAR). The series will be offered every second Tuesday from 12pm to 1pm in a hybrid format. Past and present trainees from the ADRC, AD-RCMAR and affiliated training programs will provide presentations about their work to stimulate interdisciplinary collaboration. Affiliated faculty attendance is requested to provide mentorship, promote networking, and to showcase resources that are available to enhance career development.
