

Are you or a loved one over the age 65 with no memory, thinking problems or Parkinson's disease interested in contributing to research?

We are seeking participants for a study on reproductive health and environmental risk factors for Lewy body dementia.

You may be eligible if you do not have memory, thinking problems or Parkinson's disease.

You can participate by completing a 30-45 minute online or phone survey.

No insurance needed.

You may receive compensation.

To find out more and participate in the phone survey, contact Hamidreza Ghodsi, MD.
